

- 开头

- Instead of making sweeping generalizations, we should analyze the proposition comprehensively from the dialectic perspective.
- As we all know, the world is experiencing a revolution that may turn out to be more important than the Industrial Revolution. We are now entering the Information Age, an age in which information and knowledge have more value than the ability to build machines, create stuff, grow crops, or even mine precious metals and produce gemstones.

- 比较类作文
 - 分情况讨论时
 - People seldom agree with each other even in such trivial issues as preference between A and B. It's a little bit haste to say that it's better to do A and do B, or vice versus.
 - While some people emphasize great importance of A, others argue that the significance of individual competition should not be rejected or neglected. To exam whether one is more important than the other, we have to look carefully into further details.
 - 优劣都有但有偏好时
 - I will describe the advantages and disadvantages of this system in this essay and show that OOO is not good for society.
 - I tend to give my vote to the second standpoint.
 - People may tend to argue that by doing A, we can save a lot of time for other purposes. But is it really worth it? This is a question whose answer can invite much speculation about whether by saving this little time we are inviting lots of other problems, which could easily avoided.
- 极端类作文
 - It's generally accepted that a person's childhood years are very important years of a person's life, but it's hardly appropriate to say those years are the most important.
 - We don't reject the importance of ...
 - However, A is only part of something, and it's merely one of several determinatives that shapes one's later life.

- We may catagorize things into two groups...At the same time, anther category can be made ...
- Tempting as such claim might be, it is hardly true.
- Not merely there are more jobs..., the quality of life as higher as well.
- However, when the issue comes to high school situation, further details should be carefully examined.

- 结尾

- In conclusion, both sources are valuable. Sometimes one is more important than the other in accordance with specific circumstances.
- So what should we make of all this?

- 浪费时间

- We all have only 24 hours a day and it's clear that the more time one spends on watching television, the less time one does with his or her family and friends.
- But the fact is, were it not existent, surely these people would have found other escapes, such as alcohol or gambling, for example.
- Nowadays finding food has taken a back seat to other priorities, such a s career and education.
- Granting that communication among family and friends in industrialized countries has decreased in recent years, It might be tempting to blame this problem on television since its rise roughly coincided with the decrease in time we spend with our families.

历史

History is an elder who keeps telling many vivid stories about humanity to hone the sense of pride, dignity and self-worth while promoting the thoughts about values, humanity and morality. In my view, the genuine purpose of study on history is rooted not in reconstructing the past completely and accurately by the mere sifting of evidence for facts but rather delivering the eternal values and humanity which can illustrate the present as a light and bend the arc of future towards the hope of a better day.

科技

The significance of science and technology is not just a tool for humans to fight against natural disasters or the pursuit of more comfortable life, but also an assistant to find the subtle relationship between human and nature and to get rid of our shortcomings, in the process of correction of weakness and deficiency, lead mankind to reach a more advanced and civilized future.

教育

Granted that it's important to lay a firm foundation for the achievement of personal fulfillment through education, education amounts to far more than providing knowledge; it also embraces delivering beliefs, values and humanity. In my view, the genuine purpose of education is rooted not in stuffing "education" but rather eliciting the potential of students aimed at helping them to realize the richness within themselves.

艺术

The purpose of art is not only for humans to appreciate, but also to reflect a diverse range of the local social life and to meet the spiritual needs of people for ideology, which also initiates human to express emotions and to contemplate life.
